

Forward

I felt it appropriate to give an explanation here as to why this book was not published on the original release date. It was largely due to an error in judgement by marketing with a book trailer before the book was completed. Because it is such a controversial subject, this resulted in an uproar in the cage fighting arena with many ill-minded individuals and groups doing everything in their power to make sure this book was not released. From persistent harassment of my family, including my elderly mother and father, to death threats, vandalism and invasion of privacy(spying),the negativity did not cease. Shortly after, with my father transitioning (passing away), I felt my best interest was to wait, do my best to take care of my mother and finish up at a later date. Opposing and speaking truth regarding Martial sports, without exaggeration, is literal persecution. I will discuss details about these despicable acts and many events of discrimination and injustices that occurred.

One must always strive to be inwardly humble and outwardly gentle.

However, once decided on standing up for the cause of Justice, then he must have the courage expressed in the saying

“Even if it must be ten million foes, I Go!”

~ Gichin Funakoshi.

I had inspiration with a deadline to publish this book now, 7 years from the original date. Why so long? Because good people are now ready for the truth. I will say that in writing this book, I was not driven by any desire for fame or fortune. When my father was alive, I mentioned to him during one of our conversations that I would like to help pay off his reverse mortgage if the book is a good seller. He said to me “you don’t have to do that.” And I replied “I want to, what else would I want? I love books and have plenty, I don’t care about vacations or material things and you have always helped me, so I hope

I can..” He smiled sincerely and said “thanks”. Although my dream of helping him financially never manifested, I am grateful that I had the opportunity to tell him in sincerity and for him to acknowledge that.

Any proceeds that come from the sale of this book will fund my lifelong mission to assist in the betterment of humanity, I would never put humanity as second best while I go on numerous vacations a year. To like material objects and items in the physical world is human and natural. To control and balance oneself, to not be selfish and finding one’s true essence, that is the way of the Divine and should be life’s focus.

I pray to the heavens that this book may show all readers a glimpse of that spark that glows inside you. A glimpse of your true self, which is the driving force of your physical body. Awaken.. remember and smile...

May all who read become aware of the plotted deception and the hidden dangers of MMA cage fighting Sports. You will see why it exists in today’s world, how easy it is to see the differences of the Sport vs Art and why America must ban cage fighting for self-preservation.